

Services for Adults who use Augmentative and Alternative Communication

The University of Iowa Speech and Hearing Clinic offers services for adult clients who use or need Augmentative and Alternative Communication systems, such as communication boards and high-tech speech-generating devices. Resources, evaluations, equipment access and programming, and therapeutic instruction are available. Clients are paired with graduate student clinicians studying speech-language pathology at Iowa.

Resources, evaluation, equipment access and programming, and therapeutic instruction for adults with:

- Aphasia
- Huntington's Disease
- Traumatic Brain Injury
- Cerebral Palsy
- Intellectual Disabilities
- Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis
